NEW ADMINISTRATORS

Ivan Lamourt '82, Michelle Tuorto, and Mike Scanlan H'97 weren't exactly working in the shadows at St. Benedict's before January 2011. With a collective 44 years at the Hive, each had already amassed considerable experience — Ivan as a teacher, coach and counselor; Michelle as a teacher and head of the science department; and Mike as assistant headmaster, finance adviser, facilities manager and moderator of the student-run 520 Corp facilities maintenance company.

But a careful organizational study led by Don Laurie '60 and Kevin Moore '64 in the fall of 2010 resulted in an administrative structure that would both address faculty concerns like professional development, intra-school communication and student discipline, and spread to others some of Fr. Edwin's responsibilities for day-to-day operations.

Ivan, Michelle and Mike were tapped to take on three new or revived positions. As the new Assistant Headmaster, Ivan is charged with overseeing the day-to-day operations of the school. Michelle, now Dean of Faculty, manages the recruitment, development, and retention of the faculty, supporting and supervising teachers in instruction, classroom management, and best practices. Mike, as Dean of Student Life, is responsible for supporting students outside the regular academic routine, including everything from implementing the Group System, overseeing the student leadership structure and developing programs to motivate students and reward positive behavior and performance.

VOLUNTEERING

Most non-profits consider themselves lucky if their regular volunteers donate a number of hours each week, keep a routine that is good for them and their organizations, and find the volunteer's talents a "good fit" for them and the volunteer.

In 2010-11, we may have had the "superstar" of volunteers in Kevin Moore '64. If he was inspired by the example of young Benedictine volunteers who gave a year of their lives in service to St. Benedict's, we don't know, but Kevin decided on the same commitment of a year of service. So he arrived in July 2010, moved into Leahy House in late July and stayed at full-time work for us right through Graduation 2011. Living in Leahy House, he was an informal tutor and counselor, getting to know our resident students and developing a real feel for the improvements that would enhance Leahy House and St. Benedict's.

These were his incidental contributions. Reluctantly, Kevin recognized that although he didn't want to do "fund-raising," development was where we most needed the energy and focus he brought. His years in management and consulting, following his Annapolis days and a 20-year Navy career, gave him an unusual set of executive skills to bring to the myriad challenges of a small staff charged with producing a large annual fund of over $4 million. His fresh perspective and great work ethic helped lead our Annual Fund to another successful year, marked by some breakthrough foundation gifts, including a major grant for our Leahy House programs. No doubt his wife, Pat, deserves kudos for her sacrifice for the Benedict's cause as well.

SOCCER

The Gray Bee's 2010-2011 sports campaign began in the fall with a new soccer coach for the first time in 25 years, but the results and expectations didn't change.

Jim Wandling inherited the soccer program from Rick Jacobs and the team didn't miss a beat. Jim led his club to its 22nd state championship while going 20-2 and finishing fifth in the country during his first season.

Jim has his club on track to win another state title and possibly a seventh national title in 2011-12.

INTERDISCIPLINARY PROJECTS

Art department chairperson, Pamela Wye-Hunsinger, spearheaded the most recent of our interdisciplinary efforts, the Asia Project, an all-year event bringing together student work from art, music, science and even the martial arts. The project has focused on different aspects of culture in China, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Tibet and India. At both winter and spring galas, the contributing departments offered exhibits in traditional Asian medicine, martial arts demonstrations, sculptures, paintings, block-prints and haiku poems, papier-mâché Indian gods and goddesses and Hindu-inspired wall hangings in the cafeteria for students, faculty, parents and guests.

Guests were also treated to performances of Asian music by the choir and the Concert and Intermediate Bands, under the direction of Drs. Dennis Lansang and Jeremy Fletcher, respectively. Ms. Wye-Hunsinger was pleased. "The variety of student work really caught people's attention," she said. "Guests could really see for themselves how (the) students' 'understanding-by-doing' was authentic and deep."

The project will continue in 2011-2012 with the Himalayan countries as the focus.

FENCING

The fencing team returned to prominence during the winter 2010 - 2011 season. The Gray Bees brought home a state championship for the first time since 2007. Coach Jeff Austin's team saw a run of 15 straight titles come to end in 2008, but the coach is excited about the prospects of keeping the title surge going with another strong showing in 2011-12.

THE LEAHY HOUSE

The Grossman Family Foundation awarded St. Benedict's a $500,000 grant to help support our student residence, Leahy House. This opportunity was made possible through the efforts of Paul Napoli, who is a member of our Board of Trustees' Finance Committee and a Trustee of The Grossman Family Foundation, and the father of St. Benedict's Board member Pat Napoli '87.

The Grossman Family Foundation's grant has helped upgrade the services provided the students in Leahy House, ensuring that it is an environment that nurtures and disciplines and sets them up for overall life success.

Since the grant's funding in January of 2011, we have been able to offer the residence program seven days per week to our students, providing a consistent and safe environment for those who do not have a weekend alternative. The grant has also allowed our resident students to get "out of the building" for such perks as meals out at some of Newark's local restaurants and attendance at events like a Broadway show, a Mets game and other entertainment events. The Grossman Family Foundation's gift has been a blessing to our entire community and transformative for the Leahy House residents.

Class and Class Agent Recognition Awards

St. Benedict's honored on Classes and Class Agents for their contributions during the 2010-2011 Annual Fund year with the following awards. We thank them for their efforts and congratulate them on their successes

Gerald J. Dean '36 Award

This award is in honor of Gerald (Gerry) J. Dean '36, who sowed the seeds for the now hugely successful annual Senior Alumni Luncheon and dedicated just as much energy to the personal Annual Fund solicitations for which he wrote and called his classmates. The award recognizes a Class Agent for a Class that graduated more than 50 years ago who goes beyond what is asked of volunteers and takes the initiative to rally classmates' support.

Joseph J. Belas III '57

John J. Bendokas '45 Award

This award is in honor of John (Jack) J. Bendokas '45, who, with the help of his fellow Class Agents, fiercely and often successfully competed to make sure that his class topped the list of all classes in participation percentage. This award recognizes the Class that graduated more than 50 years ago that has the highest Annual Fund participation rate.

Class of 1945

William J. Mealia '56 Award

This award is named for the man who has exemplified the rapport building and near constant contact that makes classes stay connected. Bill and his colleagues in '56 have organized an annual gathering each December since their graduation, and many in-between gatherings of small numbers of classmates. Their spirit and enthusiasm for their Class and the school is an inspiration. The result for St. Benedict's: a real sense of connectedness and the steady support that flows from their feeling a part of the school today. This award is given to the Class Agents of a Class that graduated 50 years ago or more whose work on behalf of St. Benedict's in the past year exemplifies great commitment to St. Benedict's.

Pete Ryan '61, Tom Kilkenny '61, and Frank O'Brien '61

Class of 1960 Award

This award is named after the Class of 1960 for their record-setting contributions during their 50th Reunion year in 2009-2010. With many members of the Class making the largest donations they had ever made, resulting in a range of gifts larger and smaller, they set a benchmark for total dollars raised in a fiscal year. This award recognizes the Class that contributed the largest sum to the Annual Fund in the past year.

Class of 1959

Class of 1961 Award

This award is named after the Class of 1961, which with a large team of Class Agents, consistently contributes at levels above 60 percent--the highest for those with 50 members or more. Their dedication and year-to-year routine for attempting to speak personally to each classmate are models for other classes. This award is given to the class with 50 members or more with the highest participation percentage the past year.

Class of 1961

Fr. Benedict E. Tyler, O.S.B. '44 Award

This award recognizes a Class whose cohesion and spirit stand out. Named after Fr. Benedict Tyler, O.S.B. '44, who was much loved by students for his personable demeanor and his concern for their welfare, this award is given to a Class whose members care for one another in much the same way as Fr. Benedict did his students.
